Updates: Nutrition	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Kansas Health Foundation has a three year planning grant that will move towards policy. • JCPRD kicked off Healthy Concessions at Theatre in the Park, passing out the new healthy menu describing "Picnics on the Go" along with free apples to all of the guests. The next step will be to initiate the same at New Century; with the end goal of JCPRD making the initiate for new concession guidelines. • JCDHE WIC began its community garden and has been recruiting staff and client volunteers. There was an open house today with food sampling, recipes, and games for the kids. • Faith based food pantries are looking into providing healthier foods. • The Giving Grove is an organization that partners with Hunger Ministries volunteers to start orchards in various areas. They first look at what the best plants for the area are, and finding access to good, local land. 200 fruit trees were planted in the spring between five different sites. In 3-6 years, when the trees reach maturity, they will harvest approximately 60,000 lbs of healthy food for the community. Society of St. Andrew has volunteers in place to harvest and distribute to Harvesters and local food pantries.
Physical Activity	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Surveys are being sent to schools to see if they have programs in place. • Complete Streets are working in four communities on sheltered bus stops, making bike racks available, and walkability. Gardner is the latest to become involved.
Access to Care	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • St. Joseph Hospital has provided hip and knee replacements free of charge for seven uninsured who are 200% below poverty level. Walk USA paid for outpatient physical therapy following the surgeries. These services will be provided again this year. Over $3 million in free care was provided in the way of surgeries, x-rays and lab work; with 440 physicians participating. • Working on getting people from safety net clinics in touch with a medical home. • Deb Whiteman spoke about the web service My Resource Connection, MyRC, and will come to present if anyone has the need. The service includes finding resources for jobs, housing, medical needs etc. and searches can be based on zip codes and also help you to find the nearest bus routes to services. Please contact her at 913-826-1218, or deb.whiteman@jocogov.org. The URL for MyRC is https://ims.jocogov.org/crc/
