Making a Difference Together

"To the world, you may be just one person; but to one person, you may be the world," unknown. Gwen Green has worked for the Johnson County Housing Authority for five years. She specializes in people porting or moving into the Johnson County jurisdiction. While Gwen Green has helped so many, she recently helped a family become independent. A single mother with a daughter worked hard to become U.S. Citizens. The daughter helps with communication for her mother. This special family came to Johnson County from another KC Metro Housing Authority. By porting into Ms. Green's case-load, their lives would forever be changed. Ms. Green worked patiently with this family for 11 months. Ms. Green helped them find stable housing and was optimistic through each lost job. The mother hit a stroke of luck with a local temp agency. They were able to place her in a temporary position in the health care field. The mother excelled in this position and after a few short months, was offered a permanent full time position, which she was thrilled to inform Ms. Green. The family has since moved out of their assisted apartment and is looking to purchase a home. While they could have continued to receive minimal assistance from the housing authority, they chose to give up the assistance stating they were in a good place now and wanted to give the opportunity to another family.

What's your name?

Do you know the business name you have submitted to Johnson County? Hint! It should also match the name on the property tax record. We require all properties be in the owner's name. We allow written proof if you would like a different operating name or a different company to manage your property for you. The owner is the one who will be held accountable for the property and the taxes due. Email Jerome Franks to update your information at:
